How I Met Your Mother is a very popular Netflix series. It tells of the bumpy, amusing, and ultimately successful path the protagonist follows in achieving his dream of building a family.

Many young people today have the dream of becoming entrepreneurs and having their own businesses. However, they need to see success stories to understand how it is possible to work at the present time in the Alps developing their skills and creativity. The possibility of creating their own future.

In the morning session - dedicated to young people - the CEO of Aquafil S.p.A. (IT), Giulio Bonazzi, will describe how, since the founding of Aquafil in 1965, the resources, ideas and investments of Aquafil have been concentrated on growth and excellence with the focus on environmental, social and corporate sustainability.

The creativity of Rok Gartnar, a young Slovenian entrepreneur and inventor of mountain machinery (SI), will present another way of living and working in the Alps.

And finally a project developed in Austria, "Smart Factories - Connected Learning", will be illustrated by Gerhard Rinnergschwenter, Head of the Tiroler Fachschule Kufstein (AT).

The afternoon session - dedicated to all those who are interested in shaping the future - will deal with futurology and jobs of the future: Grammenos Mastrojeni, Italian diplomat, professor and writer (IT), Andrea Ferrazzi, Director of Confindustria Belluno Dolomiti (IT) and Roberto Poli, futurologist, academic at the University of Trento (IT), will talk of green jobs and the jobs of the future.

Francesco Profumo, President of the Bruno Kessler Foundation, former President of the National Research Council and Minister for Education, University, and Research (IT) from 2011 to 2013 will help to conclude our reflections.

The event will be conducted and moderated by Hannes Goetsch and Luca Daprà of the BASIS Vinschgau Venosta (IT).

EUSALP is the fourth macro-regional strategy of the European Union and includes 48 regions from France, Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Austria, Italy and Slovenia. Enhanced cooperation, economic, social and territorial cohesion are some of its many objectives. Its internal architecture includes a General Assembly (GA), an Executive Board (EB) and 9 Action Groups (AG) dealing with specific topics. The Autonomous Province of Trento leads Action Group 3, which deals with training, education and labour market: its mission is to "Improve the adequacy of labour market, education and training in strategic sectors".

Currently, all 9 AGs are engaged in the implementation of the AlpGov 2 Interreg Project that aims to strengthen the Strategy's multilevel governance structures and mechanisms while proposing strategic initiatives. It will run from January 2020 to June 2022. AlpGov 2 is funded under the Interreg Alpine Space programme, has a budget of € 3,003,076.80 and is financed with ERDF and national funds.

Important topics for our AG are: collaborative digital environment, strengthening education, training and skills of workers in EUSALP countries, digital jobs, green jobs and skills of the future, lifelong learning.

The scientific coordination, as well as the organisational secretariat of this event, is at the Autonomous Province of Trento, with:

- Mrs Giuliana Cristoforetti;
- Mrs Cristina Ioriatti;
- Mrs Paola Garbari;
- Mr Mauro Casotto - Trentino Sviluppo
